Membership in the Society of Architectural Historians

The Society of Architectural Historians was founded in 1940 to advance the knowledge and understanding of the history of architecture, design, landscape, and urbanism worldwide. The Society serves scholars, professionals in allied fields (including architecture, historic preservation, and planning), and the interested general public by:

- Sponsoring the pursuit and presentation of scholarly research;
- Sponsoring forums for the presentation of scholarly research and exchange of ideas;
- Providing publications that disseminate scholarly work, professional information, and general information related to the field and of interest to the public;
- Acknowledging outstanding scholarly accomplishments in the field;
- Fostering scholarship, research, and education about the history of the built environment;
- Organizing study tours of significant buildings and sites both in the United States and abroad;
- Supporting the preservation of historic places and cultural heritage.

The Society is a constituent member of the American Council of Learned Societies. Membership is open to all who are interested in furthering the study, enjoyment, and preservation of architecture and its related arts. In addition to receiving the Society's quarterly journal and bimonthly newsletter, members are eligible to attend the annual meeting, annual architectural tours abroad, and annual tours to regions of particular architectural interest in the United States or Canada. Subscription to the JSAH and the newsletter are available only with membership in the Society. Classes of membership are as follows:

Charles J. Connick: His Education and His Windows in and near Pittsburgh

176 pages, 94 color and 19 b/w photos. Paper. $19.95

Albert M. Tannler

Foreword by Peter Cormack

Inspired by English Arts & Crafts artists and by Viollet-le-Duc, Charles J. Connick (1875-1945) revived the understanding of stained glass windows as key architectural elements, not ersatz paintings as they were viewed in 19th-century America. When he died, he was “considered the world’s greatest contemporary craftsman in stained glass” (New York Times).

“Albert Tannler’s excellent and well-designed book [contains] new information about Connick’s early career [and] well-researched individual accounts of Connick windows . . . all . . . photographed with remarkable care. . . . Good throughout on Connick’s relations with architects and architecture.” —Alan Crawford

“On so many topics this will be a most useful book. I love the archival material.” —Janet Parks

“Very well written and edited and superbly illustrated. . . . This book should be in every stained glass library.” —Rolf Achilles

Beyond the Surface: Architecture and Being Alive

112 pages, 18 duotone photos. Hardcover. $24.95

Walter C. Kidney

This posthumous, intellectual autobiography is the last of 21 books by Walter C. Kidney (1932–2005), author of the pathbreaking The Architecture of Choice: Eclecticism in America

1880–1930 (1974) and writer/historian for the Pittsburgh History & Landmarks Foundation for 30 years.

Walter Kidney “has a gift for the memorable phrase that tersely captures a complex historical or visual experience.”

New From Texas

Delirious New Orleans

Manifesto for an Extraordinary American City

By Stephen Verderber

Foreword by Kevin Alter

From iconic neighborhoods such as the French Quarter and the Garden District to more economically modest but no less culturally vibrant areas, architecture is the key element that makes New Orleans an extraordinary city. Delirious New Orleans is an authoritative study of the city's distinctive vernacular architecture that makes a compelling case for preserving and rebuilding these cultural treasures.
